Jacob's Cure is a 501C3 non-profit foundation dedicated to raising the funds necessary to curing Canavan disease, a fatal genetic brain disorder that affects children at birth. Because of an enzyme deficiency, an acid in the brain accumulates to dangerous levels causing catastrophic effects to the normal formation of myelin (white matter) in the brain that is responsible for transmitting nerve impulses from one part of the body to another. It is the lack of white matter that leaves Canavan children incapable of performing the simplest functions. Even if they live to their full life expectancy – 3 to 10 years – they become blind, paralyzed, prone to seizures...and increasingly lost to the world around them.

Since its inception in September 2000, Jacob's Cure proudly allocates 95% of monies raised to research in gene-therapy, stem cell transplantation, pharmacological approaches and basic science in understanding the disease. Our efforts to date have resulted in successful gene-therapy trials and pharmaceutical interventions that have, in most cases, stopped the progression of this quickly deteriorating disorder. Our goal is now a cure.

In collaboration with several research labs both in and outside of the US, our efforts and funding is moving research towards exciting treatments that aim to cure Canavan children worldwide.
